

AMERICAN STOCKS MATERIALLY ADVANCE

London Market Regains Confidence.

THE MARKET QUITE ACTIVE

Railroad Stocks Opened Firm and Remained So Throughout Trading Hours—Strike Chief Topic.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—American stocks were shown at general and material advances in the London market today in comparison with yesterday's local final figures and moderate buying for foreign houses was conducted here when business opened. There was little or nothing in the early cables from Europe throwing any real light on the strength of American stocks in London. Partly in consequence thereof, however, the local market opened fairly active and showing substantial advances from last night's final prices. Strong and active features were St. Paul, the Atchafalaya, Louisville and Nashville, Erie and Reading.

The only intelligence bearing upon the anthracite coal strike situation was furnished by the declaration of the president of the United Mine Workers of America that the strikers be ordered back to work pending an investigation of the labor troubles by a commission. There was little other news of general or particular importance comprised in this morning's papers.

No special significance was attached to the late decline yesterday afternoon in money or sterling exchange rates, and it was believed that today's syndicate payments on account of the Louisville and Nashville settlement would be likely to lead to active conditions in the money market. After the initial transactions, the market developed a somewhat reactionary tone on the reappearance of scattering liquidation of the same character that was conducted in yesterday's market.

PENSION COMMISSIONER HOLDS A RECEPTION

Hon. Eugene F. Ware Was Besieged by Thousands of Callers—Gen. Torrance Among Them.

Fully 38,000 veterans and their friends passed through the Pension Office yesterday afternoon to greet the new Commissioner of Pension, the Hon. Eugene F. Ware, and his assistants. The reception continued for two hours.

Gen. Eli Torrance, commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, was escorted to the scene of the reception by a detachment of thirty veterans, under the command of Capt. B. F. Chase.

Commissioner Ware made a short address of welcome, after which General Torrance responded in a short speech. Music was furnished by the Marine Band, the Modoc Glee Club, of Topeka, Kan., the Pension Office Choir, and a quartet from the Sons of Veterans' College, of Marshalltown, Iowa.

DE MONTREVILLE RETURNS TO FOLD

BOSTON, Oct. 8.—Positive information was received in this city last night that Eugene De Montreville, second baseman of the Boston Nationals, had signed with the Washington American League team for next year. He played with Washington in the National League before coming to Boston and his return to that city will strengthen that team with Coughlin at short. Doyle and Ely being the other infielders.

WHITE HOUSE GROUNDS OPEN.

The White House grounds, which have been closed since repairs were begun on the Executive Mansion, were thrown open to visitors yesterday. Thousands passed through. The gates will be opened during the remainder of the G. A. R. encampment.

LOOK OUT FOR CATARRH

The cold-wave flag means cold weather, icy, moisture-laden winds, and the beginning of winter in earnest. To Catarrh sufferers there is nothing cheering in these climatic changes, for with the return of cold weather, all the disagreeable symptoms of Catarrh appear: bleeding, headaches, dizziness, a stuffy feeling about the nose that makes breathing difficult, chest pains, and as the disease progresses, a discharge of nauseating matter from the throat and nose keeps one continually hacking and spitting. Catarrh is a most disgusting disease. The foul mucous secretions that are constantly dropping back into the stomach contaminate and poison the blood and it then becomes a deep-seated, systemic, persistent disease that must be treated through the blood, for it is beyond the reach of sprays, washes, powders or external treatment of any kind.

S. S. S. soon clears the system of all Catarrh matter and purges the blood of the irritating poisons, thus effectually checking the further progress of this serious and far-reaching disease.

Look out for Catarrh in winter, for cold stirs the blood and causes excessive secretion of mucus and brings to life all the slumbering poisons that make Catarrh the most formidable of all diseases. S. S. S. keeps the blood in such perfect order that cold waves cause no alarm and the change from the heat of summer to the rigors of winter produce no hurtful effects.

Write us if you have Catarrh, and our Physicians will advise you without charge. Book on Blood and Skin Diseases free. The Swift Specific Co., Atlanta, Ga.

SCENES AND INCIDENTS OF THE G. A. R. ENCAMPMENT

On a corner of Pennsylvania Avenue this morning there was a small but cosmopolitan crowd. The nucleus was an Italian with a collection of trinkets and three grave and stolid Indians, who were trying to make their selection from the same. About them were gathered one German, one Chinaman, four negroes, and three or four visitors from somewhere off the regular line of travel, who regarded the Indians with awed fascination, and two or three loiterers. The Indians juggled their English, and the Italian was broken in a different shape. By means of sign language and object lessons they finally arrived at an understanding, and the red men solemnly decorated themselves with badges, tin helmets, tinsel flowers, and colored wool Cmonkeys, much to the amusement of spectators.

The number and variety of souvenirs offered by the street fakery is rather unusual. Besides the stock emblems of tin medals, cavalry helmets, gilt stars, and crossed muskets, there are some novel ideas. Vendors are industriously circulating small lumps of coal serving as a pendant for stick pins; diminutive buffaloes attached to a bit of ribbon, rabbits' feet, toy lanterns, little gilt lockets, head chains, and other novelties of the encampment.

At the tent of the Third Corps, Camp Roosevelt, one of the members of the corps was exhibiting a picture of the one-armed hero of the civil war, Gen. Phil Kearney. Charles Prange, of the Third Corps, said: "I never will forget the night General Kearney met his death. It was at Schanilly, 60 September 1, 1862, at about 9 o'clock in the night. On account of darkness General Kearney had ridden past the fire of bat-

NATIONAL STRIKE THREATENS FRANCE

Coal Miners Break Into Open Revolt.

PARIS, Oct. 8.—France is today threatened with a national coal strike, which, if carried to the same lengths as the one now in progress in the United States, will cause an upheaval throughout the republic. The national and municipal authorities are making extensive preparations to ward off trouble and troops are being hurried to those points where trouble may occur. With the approach of cold weather, and winter starting them in the face, the French disposition will assert itself, and under some strong leader a popular uprising may result.

The trouble among the miners has been fermenting for years. All last November there was a general disposition to strike, but the matter went over until the following March, when the miners voted against a strike. They demand an eight-hour day and an appeal was made to the government for legislation, which was refused. The miners took matters into their own hands early this week and began to leave work. The national committee of the Miners' Federation met and discussed a resolution to order a general strike, but action was postponed until today. Meanwhile over 85,000 miners have laid down their picks at the mines in Lens, St. Etienne, and in the vicinity. There have been several disturbances and troops have been sent.

ELECTRICIANS GATHER AT VIRGINIA'S CAPITAL

Annual Convention of International Municipal Body.

RICHMOND, Va., Oct. 8.—Many of the leading electricians in the country are here attending the seventh annual convention of International Municipal Electricians. Governor Montague welcomed them yesterday, and the program was along the line of sightseeing and pleasure parties.

VICEROY TIU-KUN-YI IS CREATED AN EARL

Edict Issued That All Provinces in Which He Served Are to Erect Temples in His Honor.

PEKIN, Oct. 8.—An edict was issued today conferring posthumous honors on Liu-kun-yi, the late viceroy of the province of Nankin. He is created an earl of the first class and the edict orders that all provinces where he rendered official services shall erect temples of worship to him. The throne praises the late viceroy because he kept peace in the south during the Boxer uprising in 1900.

Chang-chih-tung at present viceroy of Wu-chang, has been appointed to succeed Liu-kun-yi. He has been ordered to go to Nankin immediately. Tzuang-fang will succeed Chang-chih-tung as viceroy of Wu-chang.

ACCIDENTALLY SHOT.

BOSTON, Oct. 8.—George Gould, of Liverpool, England, second steward of the Leyland steamship Hanoverian, was accidentally shot and killed last evening by his friend William Hughes, second steward of the Leyland liner Devonian. The shooting occurred about 8 o'clock in a small office in the rear of John Dawson & Co.'s saloon at 55 Greene Street. Hughes was examining a revolver which was accidentally discharged.

HALL CAINE COMING.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—Hall Caine, the novelist and dramatist, accompanied by his wife and son, will sail for New York next Saturday on the Cunard Line steamship Lucania.

the right into the enemy's pickets. They called to him to surrender, and he answered in the memorable words, "Kearney will never surrender." Then he lay flat on his charger and dashed off, but a ball struck him and hurled him from the horse. On the same night I was taken prisoner, and as morning dawned I saw General Kearney's body, stripped by the Confederates, lying on the ground."

In front of the tent of the cavalry corps, Army of the Potomac, at Camp Roosevelt, is a banner of which the members of that corps are exceedingly proud. It is the banner of the Cavalry Societies of the Armies of the United States, bearing a handpainted design of the society's emblem, crossed sabres with a laurel wreath. This banner was presented to the society by Gen. Phil Sheridan, its first president.

A Times reporter found sympathy from a Pennsylvania veteran on New York Avenue this morning. "Nobody knows," he said, "just how hard an affair of this kind is on you newspaper men except those who have been in the business. I was in the newspaper business once and I know I used to be a fireman on the 'Pittsburgh Chronicle.'"

That patriotism permeates the very air we breathe was exemplified by a little incident that occurred on Tenth Street, near F Street. A bootblack was playing with the remnants of an American flag. Finally he touched a latch to it and holding it up was watching the flames. Just then another boy of the same class with "de gang" came along. For a moment he contemplated the bootblack and then said: "It is to be a shame. He's burnin' de American flag. Will we stand for it, I say fellows, will we stand for it." The "fellows" evidently thought not, but a pair of swift legs took the bootblack out of danger.

ITALIAN MURDERS A COMPATRIOT

Claims He Shot in Self-Defense.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—Vincenzo Cencello, twenty-three years old, was shot and killed shortly before 6 o'clock this morning by Salvatore Vincenzo, forty years old, after a quarrel, which started in front of a saloon, in Brooklyn. Vincenzo was arraigned in court and charged with killing, he said:

"Yes, I killed the man. I did a good job. You ought to give me a badge for this. I have never been in trouble before in my life. He asked me for $5 and said that if I did not give it to him he would shoot me. He demanded money Saturday and again Monday and again this morning. He took out a revolver and said that he would kill me. I snatched the revolver and shot him."

COUNTY TREASURER SUED FOR HALF MILLION

City of Chicago Endeavors to Recover That Amount.

CHICAGO, Oct. 8.—In the name of the city of Chicago, Corporation Counsel Walker has sued County Treasurer Raymond for $527,000. The latter's bondsmen, bound in the sum of $4,000,000 are made co-defendants. The interest charges accruing on moneys collected by Mr. Raymond are made the basis for the action. Seventeen counts recite the alleged illegal retention by the treasurer of interest funds, which it is maintained belong to the public body owing the taxes upon which as a principal the interest was paid.

PATRIOTIC SESSIONS TO BEGIN TOMORROW

Conventions and Receptions to Mark the Succeeding Days of the Encampment.

The important feature of the encampment program this evening will be the reception at Convention Hall of the national presidents of the various women's organizations to Gen. Eli Torrance and staff.

The ladies of the G. A. R. will receive from 7 to 8 o'clock, and the Women's relief Corps the following hour. The reception of Mrs. Ellen Spencer Mussey, chairman of the Citizen Women's Auxiliary, will last from 9 to 10:30 o'clock. She will be assisted by the national presidents of the other organizations, and their staffs, and by the members of her committee, augmented by a host of distinguished ladies who have accepted invitations.

Tomorrow will mark the opening of the sessions of the encampment of the Grand Army. Contrary to the official orders issued some time ago these sessions will be held in the Congressional Church, Tenth and G Streets northwest, and not at Chase's Theater.

The conventions of the Woman's Relief Corps, the Ladies of the G. A. R., the National Association of Army Nurses, the Daughters of Veterans, and the Woman's Veteran Relief Union, will also be called to order tomorrow morning in the halls and churches selected for their use.

The reception of Mrs. Roosevelt at the Corcoran Art Gallery tomorrow afternoon is also looked forward to with the greatest interest by the delegates to the above conventions who have been provided with cards for this event.

STEEL MAGNATE WEDS.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Oct. 8.—Walter C. Runyon, millionaire head of the Stubs & Co. whose wife recently secured a divorce and $500,000 alimony, has married Miss Bernice Gardner Agnew, a beautiful soprano in the church of which the millionaire is a member.

ACCIDENTS REPORTED BY DISTRICT POLICE

John L. Corby, an army veteran, fifty years old, was crushed in the crowd at Seventh and Pennsylvania Avenue. He was taken to the G. A. R. Hospital.

Edward Hawes, of Detroit, Mich., stopping at the Sherman House, fell unconscious this morning at Sixth and Pennsylvania Avenue while viewing the parade. He was taken to the G. A. R. Hospital.

Christopher Talbot, thirty-five years old, fell and cut his head open this morning at Sixth and Pennsylvania Avenue. The wound was dressed at the G. A. R. Hospital.

George Stield, fifty years of age, of New York city, was knocked down by a street car on Pennsylvania Avenue about 9 o'clock last night, near the corner of Fourth and a-half Street, and was later removed to the Emergency Hospital to have his injuries dressed.

About 5 o'clock this morning a horse attached to a buggy owned and driven by William Tippet, living at 928 F Street southwest, ran away in Southwest Washington and collided with a team driven by William Lee. Both teams were completely demolished and Tippet slightly injured about the head. He was removed to his home in a carriage by friends.

Henry Harrington, thirty years of age, living at 118 B Street northwest, was taken ill in Woodbridge's store on Fourth and a-half Street and Maryland Avenue southwest this morning and removed to the Providence Hospital in the Fourth precinct patrol wagon.

An alarm of fire was turned in about 9 o'clock last night for a fire in house 907 Louisiana Avenue northwest, owned by Mr. Behrens, and occupied by the firm of Talbert & Unifielder as a commission house. The structure was damaged to the extent of $200. The loss is fully covered by insurance. No cause can be assigned for the blaze.

James B. Davis, thirty-three years of age living at Nellville, Ohio, and stopping at No. 3 Grant Place, was taken sick on Pennsylvania Avenue this morning and removed to the Emergency Hospital in the ambulance.

A. H. Cullum, sixty-five years of age, who lives in Ohio, became ill on Pennsylvania Avenue this morning, and was taken to the Casualty Hospital in the G. A. R. ambulance.

Lou Johnson, colored, of 123 Reeves Street, while serving lunches at New York Avenue crossing was painfully scalded at an early hour this morning about the face and arms by the upsetting of a pot of coffee. She was removed to Freedman's Hospital, where her injuries were dressed.

John H. Scott, colored, twenty-six years of age, of 1603 Reeves Street northwest, was taken sick on Florida Avenue northwest, near Second Street about 8 o'clock this morning, and carried to Freedman's Hospital in the Eighth precinct patrol wagon.

Alice Thurston, living at 121 Reeves Street northwest, fell with a glass in her hand early this morning and cut her arm badly. She received medical attention at Freedman's Hospital.

Philip Kersey, colored, of 408 West Thirty-sixth Street, New York city, attempted to get on a Pennsylvania Avenue street car this morning and fell. He was painfully bruised about the body and head.

A reviewing stand, located at the corner of Fifteenth and Pennsylvania Avenue northwest, collapsed during the parade this morning. There were more than a hundred persons on the stand, and all were thrown into the street. Three of them, one colored woman and two others whose names could not be secured, were rendered unconscious by the fall. They were taken to the G. A. R. Hospital.

FATAL WRECK ON THE BURLINGTON

Fast Mail Crashes Into Coal Gate and Is Ditched—Fireman Killed, Engineer Fatally Injured.

PEORIA, Ill., Oct. 8.—Fast mail train No. 8 on the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad, ran into a coal gate two blocks east of the depot at Galva, early this morning and was ditched. The fireman, named Sands, living at Galesburg was instantly killed, and Engineer C. B. Johnson, also of Galesburg, was probably fatally injured.

SOLDIER'S ROMANCE ENDS IN WEDDING

Lieutenant Amosson Weds His Sweetheart, Miss Saxton, at Depot Before Leaving for Coal Fields.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 8.—An unexpected and pretty romance attended the departure this morning of the Sixth Regiment for the coal regions.

Miss Helen J. Saxton, twenty-eight years of age, of 106 Ashmore Street, Trenton, N. J., the sweetheart of First Lieutenant Frederick M. Amosson, of Company L, insisted upon being wedded before the soldiers left. Chaplain Hoyt was summoned from the deathbed of his father in West Philadelphia and the ceremony was performed in one of the passenger coaches.

The guardsmen lined up afterward and saluted bride and groom. The license for this odd marriage was marked No. 1 on the list of those issued today.

Lieutenant Amosson is a Norwegian by birth, and in civil life is Philadelphia manager of an insurance company.

Ran a Ten-Penny Nail Through His Hand.

While opening a box, J. C. Mount, of Three Mile Bay, N. Y., ran a ten-penny nail through the fleshy part of his hand. "I thought at once of all the pain and soreness this would cause me," he says, "and immediately applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and occasionally afterward. To my surprise, it removed all pain and soreness and the injured part was soon healed." For sale by Henry Evans, 925 P Street northwest, wholesale and retail, and all druggists.

REMINISCENCES OF A VETERAN ARMY NURSE

Past State President Tells Interesting Story.

Among the several social groups in the parlors of the Bancroft last night, humorous and pathetic stories of the war were flying about freely. A little circle gathered about a motherly looking woman who was telling of her experiences as a field hospital nurse. She had been on the field of Gettysburg before the dead were removed, and was hardly at any time through the war engaged in regular hospital work.

"What did you do for supplies?" asked an interested listener. "Wasn't it very hard to get proper appliances for the care of the wounded?"

The veteran nurse smiled. "Not very," she said, "I had the Governor's pass, and the people at home were always getting things ready; scraping lint and rolling bandages, and putting up delicacies of various kinds. I usually had about a ton of supplies ready for use in the field. Sometimes I had difficulty in getting the things moved, but not often. Perhaps they would say that the boxes must wait and go by freight, but when I showed them my pass they would hustle the supplies into the express cars quick, I can tell you."

"There have been some very pleasant meetings between the nurses and their boys. I had a delightful visit at the home of one of my patients some time ago. He always said I saved his life. The doctor said he could not get well, and he wanted a glass of lemonade, and the doctor said that would kill him. But one day when the doctor was gone I slipped half a glass of lemonade in to him, and he began to mend from that day. By and by the doctor said, 'Well, there has been a miracle in this camp. Henry is going to get well.' 'No, doctor,' said I, 'it wasn't a miracle, it was that half glass of lemonade you said he mustn't have.' And he wouldn't believe me."

"Well, he wrote to me and said that I was to know him by his big gray beard and his crutch and his gold spectacles, and I agreed to wear my Red Cross button. But he never looked at the button. He said he knew me by my eyes."

The motherly looking woman smiled, but her story had been so vivid that several of the people around her were feeling much as her former patient must have felt on that occasion. She was Mrs. Rebecca Price, of Philadelphia, past State president of the organization of army nurses.

GRANT STAYS THE LIMIT.

Joe Grant, the Washington wrestler, showed a match for Harvey Parker after the show at Kerner's last night. Parker brought into requisition all the holds in his repertoire, but without result. Grant lasted the required fifteen minutes. It is announced that Grant and Parker will meet, best two out of three to a finish, beginning tonight.
